

You don't have to touch overhead
power cables for them to hurt you.

Electricity around the railway is always on and can jump metres through the air.

If it makes contact with you, it can set you on fire and will cause catastrophic, life-changing injuries – or worse.

You vs. Train

Everyone loses when you step on the track